

Is this really a debate or a matter of common sense?

Questions to consider

- What is the surgical risk and age of the patient?
- What is the pre-dominant lesion?
- What is the expected outcome with transcatheter intervention for the primary lesion?
- What is the natural history of the secondary lesions?
- What are the transcatheter options for these